The World Psychiatric Association (WPA)

The WPA is an association of national psychiatric societies, presently 138, spanning 118 different countries and representing more than 200,000 psychiatrists.

The WPA organizes the World Congress of Psychiatry, International and Regional Congresses, and Thematic Conferences. With its 72 scientific sections, it promotes collaborative work in specific domains of psychiatry. It has developed ethical guidelines for psychiatric practice, including the Madrid Declaration.

Its website is currently visited from almost all countries across the world and the WPA News is widely disseminated. Various educational programmes and series of books had been produced including an E-Learning long distance programme. World Psychiatry, the WPA official journal, could be freely downloaded from PubMed Central and the WPA website (www.wpanet.org).

What are its Aims?

The core missions of the WPA include the following:

- To encourage the highest possible standards of clinical practice
- To increase knowledge and skills about mental disorders and how they can be prevented and treated
- To promote mental health
- To promote the highest possible ethical standards in psychiatric work
- To disseminate knowledge about evidence-based therapy and values based practice
- To be a voice for the dignity and human rights of the patients and their families, and to uphold the rights of psychiatrists
- To facilitate communication and assistance especially to societies who are isolated or whose members work in impoverished circumstances

Message from the Secretary General

Dear Colleagues and Friends,

Hearty greetings to you! The first visit of the SG in the 2nd year of triennium to WPA Secretariat Geneva was organised between April 10th-13th, 2016. As you know, our Secretariat is located in the campus of the Geneva University Psychiatric Hospital. One of the highlights was my meeting with the Director General B. Levrat which was very cordial and fruitful. The DG has extended all possible support and help to the WPA Secretariat. We also had a visit by François Ferrero, the former HOD of Psychiatry at HUG, in whose time, WPA Secretariat had started working at the current premises.

The WPA Regional Conference, Tbilisi, April 27-30, 2016 was a highly successful event with the theme: "Mental health, directions and challenges". Our hearty congratulations to Eka Chkonia, President of the Society of Georgian Psychiatrists and her team. We are looking forward to the WPA International Congress, Cape Town November 18-22, 2016; Theme: "Psychiatry: Integrative Care for the Community". Kindly do attend.

Our newly designed website www.wpanet.org has gone live. Please visit the website and send us your valuable comments. If you notice any error or failure to update any of the pages, kindly bring it to our attention.

We thank WPA President Dinesh Bhugra and the EC for their support and guidance.

Thanking you,

Roy Abraham Kallivayalil

Message from the President

Dinesh Bhugra

Dear Colleagues,

Data from a global survey from 193 countries on discrimination against people with mental illness has been completed and the report is being written up as we speak. The report will be launched on the Second World Mind Matters Day on 4th September 2016. We are assessing levels of discrimination in social, political, economic and personal dimensions. Early results are shocking as how individuals with mental illness are treated by various societies and cultures.

WPA-Lancet commission on Psychiatry has started its data analysis. Over 2400 responses were received. Early next month we will start writing the report and hopefully be able to launch it either later this year or early next year. Thank you all for responding and circulating it to your members. With Careif an educational charity we are looking at well-being. Please respond on the web based survey and also circulate it widely. The link is <https://www.surveymonkey.co.uk/r/careifwell-being>

The work on setting up Diploma in Psychological Medicine aimed at psychiatrists and a Diploma in Mental Health for other health professionals continues apace. Curriculum has been agreed. We are still looking for examples of good curricula please do send them to me. We are also looking at assessments methods. We are hoping that all the assessment and learning will be web-based.

WPA has an International Congress in Cape Town from 18-22 November. Please put the dates in diary. This will be an exciting conference with eminent speakers and range of symposia and workshops.

Look forward to seeing you and hearing your opinions and valuable thoughts.

Please check the website regularly and get involved.

Symposium on mental health and scientific publication

The symposium featured four speakers: Natalia Petrova – Russia (speaking on behalf of Peter Morozov), Armen Soghoyan – Armenia, Christopher Paul Szabo – South Africa, and Michelle Riba – USA. The symposium brought together perspectives and initiatives on promoting publishing of mental health content as well as disseminating such content. Natalia Petrova reported on Peter Morozov's programme that facilitates the development of young psychiatrists, as writers. Armen Soghoyan (current WPA Secretary for Finances) presented a report on a Russian version of World Psychiatry. Christopher Paul Szabo provided a perspective on scientific publishing in Africa with a specific focus on the issue of developing world data generated by developing world researchers and published in credible developing world journals. Michelle Riba (current WPA Secretary for Scientific Publications), presented content related to some of the work of the operational committee of the section with a specific mention of one of the current agendas i.e. providing guidance on how to get published. Subsequent discussion focused on the link between sections within the WPA, specifically Education and Scientific Publications (current WPA Secretary for Education, Edgard Belfort, being at the symposium).

Christopher Paul Szabo
Member, WPA Operational Committee on Scientific Publications

From the President-Elect

Helen Herrman

We are all thrilled to hear the news that World Psychiatry, the official journal of the WPA, now has the top ranking in impact factor among journals in the field of psychiatry. This is a great achievement. I join many in congratulating Prof. Mario Maj, the founder and editor of World Psychiatry, and express our gratitude for his dedication to leading the journal's development. World Psychiatry is an important means by which WPA supports its mission to disseminate research, especially in countries where our colleagues have severely limited access to scientific literature and to opportunities to conduct and publish research. Moreover World Psychiatry focuses on the application of research to policy and practice and with its translation into several world languages it has enormous reach.

Where better to see published this month an article that outlines the thinking about the WPA action plan for the next triennium (*). Each term the WPA reassesses priorities within its strategy. The next plan accordingly builds on recent WPA initiatives, including the current focus led by our President on social justice and mental health. The priority for action in 2017-2020 will be the mental health of women and girls, particularly those living in adversity caused by poverty, war, interpersonal violence and human rights abuses. This program will be complemented by another that focuses on improving the conditions for people living with long-standing mental illnesses and disabilities, and their caregivers, in mental hospitals and other settings. Both these programs call on the WPA's ability to promote sustainable change and improvement that is based on two main factors: its capacity to collaborate successfully with other organizations; and its potential to engage psychiatrists from around the world in new challenges. I look forward to your comments and discussion.

■ MEETING POPE FRANCIS AT THE VATICAN

Roy Abraham Kallivayalil, Secretary General, World Psychiatric Association had an audience with Pope Francis at the Vatican recently. He talked to Pope Francis on various mental health issues like depression, suicides, alcoholism, drug abuse and the emotional problems of vulnerable populations like children, the handicapped, women and older people. Pope Francis listened carefully and spoke about the value of prayer in these tough times. Kallivayalil also presented to the Pope a book authored by him on Suicide Prevention.

From Secretary for Finances

Armen Soghoyan

Dear colleagues,

First of all I would like to thank all our responsible Members Societies, who are the majority, for the timely payment of membership fees. I am sure that financial discipline is already a practice.

As promised, we will not have any significant financial problems with organized conferences and hope that will never have such a problem at all. The results will be presented in relevant report. Consistent work does not go in vain.

Now when the issue of regular financial income has been settled, our task is to ensure variable income from new initiatives, the opportunities for which are already being discussed by Executive Committee. The Operational Committee on Finances and Standing Committee on Planning are discussing mechanisms that will ensure stable financial revenues for subsequent years.

Your trust and support are obliging.

Armen Soghoyan
WPA Secretary for Finances

From Secretary for Education

Edgard Belfort

Dear Colleagues,

The Secretary for Education of the WPA and his Operational Committee has formed a working group with experts in the field of education in order to work on the review of the program: The Core Training Curriculum for Psychiatry.

The main objective of the Secretary for Education as part of the WPA Action Plan 2014-2017 is to produce a set of curricula recommendations for both undergraduate (medical student) and graduate (residency) psychiatric education. The goal is to improve the quality of education and, consequently, the quality of care for patients with mental disorder. The first meeting was held in Taiwan with members of the Operational Committee on Education, with the development of the proposal sent to all WPA Zonal Representatives, for their observations and recommendations.

The second in Manila, Philippines, in order to present to experts one of the tools to use, as is the Questionnaire on Training Needs Analysis, sent later to all WPA Societies Members, to learn from them their basic structure and training needs. The third one in Madrid, with members of the WPA Task Force for the review of evidence and recommendations, using WPA Documents on issues such as: WPA Institutional Program on the Core Training Curriculum for Psychiatry, Yokohama, Japan, August, 2002. The next meeting is planned on the occasion of the WPA International Congress in Cape Town; and finally in Ecuador, February 2017, for the final design of the program.

Planning involves the interaction of the members of the Task Force, via media to achieve greater effectiveness in program development. The information and recommendations are disseminated by our Website as well as the availability of the publication of the material.

Your participation, recommendations and / or suggestions will always be welcome.

WPA Secretary for Education

From Secretary for Scientific Sections

Afzal Javed

WPA Scientific Sections are playing an important role in promoting and disseminating scientific knowledge around the globe. I am pleased that the number of sections has increased to 72 and many of the sections are keen to increase their individual membership especially for the young psychiatrists. This will certainly be an important step towards involvement of young psychiatrists in the WPA functioning as well as for developing their leadership skills and enhancing their organizational abilities.

The Sections' Operational Committee is finalising the by-laws related to Sections' functioning and is going to submit its recommendations to the Planning Committee. We are still continuing with our discussions on Sections' future work, including clustering of Sections on the basis of common interests and activities. This will hopefully help to promote further collaboration and links among different Sections.

Organization of Intersectional Forums and Intersectional Educational Programmes has again been an on-going practice and the recent meeting in Munich has proved very successful. Similar activities are planned for the forthcoming meeting in South Africa. Sections have also continued developing training courses and producing position statements and working on the theme of promotion of mental health as a priority in their work, along with initiating various programmes in the areas of mental health promotion and prevention psychiatry by producing educational materials for the WPA website.

Programmes promoting the interest of medical students in the field of psychiatry as a future career have also been a focus for the current work of Sections.

It is anticipated that the current enthusiasm of Sections' leadership and their dedicated work will continue adding further contributions to the excellence of scientific knowledge and the development of innovative approaches in psychiatric practice.

EGYPTIAN ASSOCIATION OF COGNITIVE BEHAVIOR THERAPY

EACBT International Congress was held at the American University of Cairo in Cairo, Egypt on February 25-27, 2016. This was a WPA and AFPA co-sponsored meeting. The theme of the EACBT2016 was “Beyond the Basics; Into evidence-based practice of CBT”. The congress attracted more than 500 professionals working in the field including psychiatrists, psychologists, social workers and others. The congress continued to execute the EACBT vision of making the evidence-based cognitive behavior therapy available for every professional in the Arab world and to bring together eminent figures of psychotherapy from all over the world to present their art for the eager audience in the Arab world. The congress was preceded with a 3-day full course on CBT.

■ WPA SCIENTIFIC PUBLICATIONS: BOOKS AND JOURNALS

Michelle Riba, M.D., M.S

We received the astounding news from Mario Maj, M.D., Ph.D, editor in Chief of World Psychiatry and Past President of the WPA that the new impact factor of World Psychiatry is 20.205.

World Psychiatry* ranks now Number 1 among psychiatric journals, worldwide!!
Here are the rankings of the top ten journals:

1.	World Psychiatry	20.205
2.	JAMA Psychiatry	14.417
3.	American Journal of Psychiatry	13.505
4.	Molecular Psychiatry	13.314
5.	Biological Psychiatry	11.212
6.	Schizophrenia Bulletin	7.757
7.	Psychotherapy and Psychosomatics	7.632
8.	Journal of American Academy of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry	7.182
9.	British Journal of Psychiatry	7.060
10.	Journal of Child Psychology and Psychiatry	6.615

Our heartiest congratulations and sincere appreciation to Mario Maj, MD, Ph.D. This is an incredible and well deserved achievement and makes us all so proud! Thank you, Mario for your leadership and dedication and for this outstanding journal. What a contribution you have made!!

WPA Operational Committee on Scientific Publications

The WPA Operational Committee on Scientific Publications is having regular conference calls regarding the portfolio of publications that are currently available to members. We are also discussing how to develop ways for members, especially from low resourced regions, to more easily access materials for their clinical work and research endeavors. Members of the committee include Co-chairs: Michelle Riba, Dusica Lecic Tosevski; Christopher Szabo, Prabha Chandra, Reinhard Heun, Peter Tyrer, Alfredo Cia, and Joao Mauricio Castaldelli.

Under the leadership of Professor Joao Mauricio Castaldelli, we are working on a submission on WPA Scientific Publications for the upcoming WPA International Congress in Cape Town in November 2016 as well as ways to encourage more scientific publications from junior investigators.

Other news is that under the stewardship and leadership of Professor Alfredo Cía, and supported by the WPA, we now have the WPA Latin American Psychiatry Journal Library in Spanish (Biblioteca y Hemeroteca Iberoamericana de Psiquiatria de la WPA), based in Argentina. This is an exciting and important development and over the coming months we will ask Professor Cía to update us on this important and valuable resource. Thank you, Alfredo, for your passion and leadership regarding this important project.

Special Congratulations and thanks go to Professor Constantin Soldatos on the newly published WPA volume Pluralism in Psychiatry: II. Multidimensional Considerations co-edited by C. Soldatos, D. Dikeos, P. Ruiz, D. Bhugra and M. Riba (Medimond Publications, Bologna 2015). The previous WPA volume in the same Congress Proceedings Series was titled Pluralism in Psychiatry: I. Diverse Approaches and Converging Goals co-edited by C. Soldatos, P. Ruiz, D. Dikeos and M. Riba (Medimond Publications, Bologna 2014). We sincerely appreciate all the conscientiousness, thoroughness and importance of these two very important volumes on a range of topics in psychiatry. Thank you so much to Professor Soldatos!

Under the leadership of Professor Reinhard Heun and with the support of Secretary General Roy Kallivayalil, we are seeking to better understand how we can optimally utilize the WPA Website to provide publications and linkages that will help WPA colleagues access the latest research and publications.

I sincerely appreciate the opportunity to serve you as WPA Secretary for Scientific Publications. We welcome your ideas and suggestions. Thank you very much for your endorsement and support of our efforts and work.

■ WPA XVII WORLD CONGRESS OF PSYCHIATRY
8-12 OCTOBER 2017
BERLIN, GERMANY

In the heart of science and patient care

The WPA WORLD CONGRESS OF PSYCHIATRY is one of the most important scientific congresses in the field of psychiatry which takes place every three years. In 2017 this paramount event will be held in Germany's capital Berlin on 8 -12 October and is hosted by the German Association for Psychiatry, Psychotherapy and Psychosomatics (DGPPN).

The theme of the WPA XVII WORLD CONGRESS "Psychiatry of the 21st Century: Context, Controversies and Commitment" is an invitation to take stock of recent developments and evidence-based findings in the field of psychiatry and their implications for diagnosis, treatment and education. Participants from all over the world can expect an outstanding scientific programme with renowned keynote speakers and excellent educational sessions, which impart state-of-the-art-knowledge. A part of the programme is especially tailored for young psychiatrists. Besides the congress is dedicated to promoting

■ ITALIAN PSYCHIATRIC ASSOCIATION

The 4th National Meeting of Young Psychiatrists - Section of the Italian Psychiatric Society - took place in Rome, Italy on 5-6 May 2016. The congress, organized under the presidency of Dr Giovanni Martinotti and Dr. Salvatore Calò, numbered over 700 participants, including young psychiatrists and psychiatric trainees coming from all over Italy. The topic of the congress was “Psychopathology, Pharmacology and Neuroscience: possible links”. The first plenary session featured a lecture by Prof. Mario Maj, focused on schizophrenia today; Sir Robin Murray lectured on the progression of schizophrenia while the President of the Italian Psychiatric Association and some members of the Executive group elaborated on the career of young psychiatrists and the critical issues faced by the Italian psychiatric services.

The scientific programme of the meeting also focused on the burden of substance abuse in psychosis, the treatment and management of bipolar and depressive disorders and forensic psychiatry. All the sessions of the conference were aimed at finding a possible connection between psychopathology, pharmacology and neuroscience. During the meeting, a poster session was held, featuring almost 80 posters.

The Congress was also the opportunity for all members of National Board of Young Psychiatrists Italian Section to have the ordinary assembly, with 31 delegates from all over Italy. The new Italian Coordinators for the next three years have been elected - Dr. Maria Signorelli and Dr. Giovanni Martinotti.

■ CROATIAN PSYCHIATRIC ASSOCIATION

In April 2016, the Croatian Psychiatric Association (CPA) organized the 13th Croatian Psychiatric Days, again focusing on the presentation of clinical cases and offering the opportunity to talk about open questions of our everyday clinical practice, especially to younger colleagues. As always, this event has been successfully attracting colleagues of all generations. This year, this was also the opportunity to present books and handbooks that were published by Croatian psychiatrists in the last year. With more than 20 books in the last year, including books on psychiatry but also on poetry and art, the Croatian psychiatry proved its potential and creativity.

In May, the CPA started its work as a partner on the project Ensuring optimal health care for people with mental health disorders (CRO MHD), under the programme: Transition Facility IPA/2013/, Health/social sector projects led by the Croatian Institute for Public Health, with the objective to increase the protection and improvement of mental health, including more accessible and more effective treatment as well as rehabilitation of persons with mental health disorders.

■ LITHUANIAN PSYCHIATRIC ASSOCIATION (LPA)

During the Soviet period there was a mutual society of neurologists and psychiatrists in Lithuania. The mind of psychiatry then was formed mainly by psychiatrists of Moscow and St. Petersburg schools (Russian). After regaining independence in 1990, paths of neurologists and psychiatrists split. The newly founded LPA took an active and challenging way. Many social indicators in Lithuania, e.g., one of the largest frequencies of suicide, homicide, accidents due to alcohol consumption, poverty, revealed a conflict between changing society and mind. However, during this difficult time Lithuanian society and psychiatry received a great help from good-willed people, organizations and mental health professionals from different countries. Psychiatrists became members of the World, European and Nordic psychiatric associations.

Goals set by the LPA: achieve the best psychiatric practice standards; destigmatize psychiatry; introduce mental health care as a desirable and accessible possibility for every person. LPA dedicates this year's World Mental Health Day to retrospection and perspective of 25-year-old psychiatric thought. Thus, there will be a conference on 10th of October 2016 at the Parliament of Lithuania.

On behalf of the LPA we are grateful to the President of the WPA Prof. Dinesh Bhugra and the whole WPA Executive Committee for the decision to organize the WPA Inter-Zonal Congress "Changing Society, Changing Psychiatry and Changing Self" in Vilnius, Lithuania, 3-6 May 2017. LPA welcomes everyone who wants to come to this Congress. Please provide all requests and topics proposals by e-mail: info@psichiatrija.lt.

■ AMERICAN PSYCHIATRIC ASSOCIATION

At the conclusion of the APA Annual Meeting in Atlanta, Maria A. Oquendo, M.D., began her one-year term as President of the APA. Oquendo's theme for her presidential year is "Prevention Through Partnerships". She emphasized that prevention is the future of American medicine and of psychiatry and that the best strategies for prevention will require collaboration with colleagues in primary care and other specialties as well as policymakers, schools and other key partners.

Oquendo is currently professor and vice chair for education at Columbia University and a research psychiatrist at the New York State Psychiatric Institute and Columbia University. Oquendo also serves as vice president of the American Foundation for Suicide Prevention and serves on the American College of Neuropsychopharmacology's Council and the National Institute of Mental Health's National Advisory Mental Health Council.

"This is an amazing time to be a psychiatrist because the field is on the cusp of major discoveries", Oquendo said. "We know more about the brain than ever, and new treatments - ranging from pharmacology to behavioral interventions

- are being developed. We are poised to join our sister disciplines in medicine to develop preventive strategies. I'm excited about the opportunity to lead the APA at this important time."

■ PERSONALIZED PSYCHIATRY

We have organised several symposia and lectures, among them the symposia "Personalized Medicine in Mood and Anxiety Disorders: Disease Vulnerability and Treatment" for the Anxiety and Depression Association of America (ADAA) Anxiety and Depression Conference 2016 in Philadelphia (USA) and a lecture on "Personalized Medicine: Depression" by Charles Nemeroff for the 2016 APA meeting in Atlanta (USA).

Finally, we are very happy and excited to announce that Elsevier will launch in the next months the new scientific journal "Personalized Medicine in Psychiatry" whose Co-Editors in Chief will be Giampaolo Perna and Charles Nemeroff. "Personalized Medicine in Psychiatry" provides a home for basic and clinical investigators, neuroscientists, psychiatrists, psychologists, residents, and medical and graduate students to publish high quality research papers, reviews, new ideas and perspectives, debates, case reports, applied technologies that contribute towards advancing our basic, clinical and therapeutic knowledge of personalized medicine in psychiatry. Submissions are welcome: for all the information on the journal you can visit the website: www.personalizedmedpsych.com.

■ PSYCHIATRY, MEDICINE AND PRIMARY CARE AND EXERCISE, PSYCHIATRY AND SPORT

We are working with the Section on Exercise, Psychiatry and Sport to develop training programs for Primary Care physicians to be better educated on the psychiatric aspects of mild repetitive concussion. In addition to sports concussion, the education focuses on other at risk groups, including the elderly, school ages children with hyperactive ADHD, patients with drug and alcohol use disorders, domestic violence victims, and military personnel. The goal of the training is to increase awareness of delayed clinical phenotypes observed in the post-concussive period. Prof. David Baron is coordinating the project with Prof. Thomas

■ URBAN MENTAL HEALTH

New Mission Report (August 2015): Of a total world population of 8.1 billion, the urban population will rise to 5 billion by 2030, and slum dwellers will have doubled to as much as 2 billion by 2030 (UN-HABITAT, 2006). This situation is becoming a global concern in particular for mental health and well-being both in developed and developing countries.

Scope: The Section will mainly work on the following six-sections, taking into account global priorities. Each scope will have a coordinator in the section to take initiatives on research and education in the respective area.

1. Global impact of demographic changes due to urbanization on mental health.
2. Mental health of slum dwellers
3. Urban life style and stress related mental health

4. Impacts of terrorism and disasters on mental health in urban areas

5. Mental Health problems of specific population groups in mega cities such as the elderly, women, children and persons with disabilities

6. Provision of mental health services in Urban areas

Objective: The WPA Section on Urban Mental Health aims at contributing to capacity development on urban mental health in the world, through education and publication.

Planned activities (3 years)

Research: Each thematic area will publish a review paper in 2016. If possible, conduct a pilot study in 2016. Leaders of the thematic areas will lead and coordinate.

Education and training: At every WPA meeting, the section will facilitate workshops/symposiums on urban mental health. The section encourages host countries to conduct trainings on urban mental health in their countries with support from the section.

Publications: Are critical to make us visible as a leading agency in the area of urban mental health.

Networking: For promoting and conducting international collaborative research and others.

■ EPIDEMIOLOGY AND PUBLIC HEALTH AND GENETICS IN PSYCHIATRY

Inter-sectional meeting: Munich

The WPA Section on “Epidemiology and Public Health” held its 2016 meeting in Munich, Germany on March 29th through April 1st. For the first time, this conference was organized as an intersectional activity, i.e., jointly with the Section on Genetics in Psychiatry. The meeting which had the theme “Psychiatric epidemiology meets genetics: the public health consequences” (www.wpaepi2016.org) took place at the Institute of Psychiatric Phenomics and Genomics (www.ippg.eu) and the Department of Psychiatry and Psychotherapy, the very premises that were home to some of the greatest thinkers of psychiatry of all times, namely Emil Kraepelin and Alois Alzheimer. More than 100 participants from all over the world discussed the latest development in the fields of traditional epidemiology, public health, genetic epidemiology, genetics statistics, pharmacogenetics, epigenetic, genetic testing, and ethics in psychiatry. Another first this time was a guided poster tour and selection of three poster awardees. Finally, at the Munich meeting, the newly established Michele Tansella Award was presented for the first time. The inaugural recipient was Dr. Katherine M. Keyes from Columbia University (New York, NY, USA).

The joint meeting of the Section on “Epidemiology and Public Health” and the Section on “Genetics in Psychiatry” was not only a scientific success but a celebration of genuine interdisciplinary exchange. Members and officers of several sections were in attendance as well as two former WPA Presidents (Norman Sartorius and Felice Lieh-Mak) and the WPA Standing Committee on Ethics and Review held its annual in-person meeting one day prior to the meeting.

■ WPA ZONE 7 (NORTHERN EUROPE)

Zone 7 countries held in Stockholm their annual meeting, where their presidents and 6-year delegates represent psychiatric associations. Interest in specializing in psychiatry has grown in Norway, Sweden and Finland, but decreased in Iceland. Finnish reformation of specialist education will lead to an increase of resident in psychiatry and decrease in e.g., pediatrics and orthopedics because one has to apply the right to specialize and one specialty can only have a limited amount of residents. In Finland and Sweden companies hiring physician workforce to employers have gained ground due to lack of psychiatrists in certain regions. In Norway, Lithuania, and Sweden clinical psychologists have demanded more responsibility within the services as leaders.

Role of psychiatrists as administrators has already decreased in Iceland, which has been a cause for concern among psychiatrists. In Norway pressure from strong service-user-groups have resulted in a directive issued by the health minister to give patients the right to choose a “no-medication” ward for psychoses, even in inpatient settings if committed. All of the Baltic countries have suffered from brain drain, as possibilities for better pay is available in other EU member states. Lithuania has allowed involuntary treatment of pregnant women with substance use disorders. Electronic patient records are being reformed in Finland and Denmark with heavy emphasis on use of “checkboxes” and use of prose-text will be limited.

■ ZONE 2 (UNITED STATES OF AMERICA)

The membership of the American Psychiatric Association (APA) elected Anita Everett, M.D. as its next president-elect. Maria Oquendo, M.D. began her one-year term as president of the APA in May as well and will preside over the 2017 APA Annual Meeting scheduled for 20-24 May in San Diego, California. In Atlanta, Oquendo announced a new initiative to incorporate international participation into the Research Colloquium for Junior Investigators which provides guidance, mentorship and encouragement to young investigators in the early phases of their training. Participation in Atlanta included participants from Brazil, Colombia, France, and Mexico. The deadline for abstract submissions for the Annual Meeting in San Diego is scheduled for early September. Go to psychiatry.org and search "Submission Guidelines" to begin preparing your submission.

Additionally, APA approved a new membership category offering international attendees the opportunity to become a member of the APA and enjoy benefits such as free access to online courses on medical knowledge and clinical skills. More information about the new membership category, International Resident-Fellow Member (IRFM), can be found at psychiatry.org/international-resident.

East-European Educational WPA-Servier Academy

The work continues in the East-European Educational WPA-Servier Academy. Young researchers, psychiatrists from Azerbaijan, Belarus, Georgia, Kazakhstan, Russia, and Ukraine arrived in Madrid to take part in the first work session of the second convocation of the Academy in March 2016. Their goal, as usual, was the preparation of a series of scientific reviews on the results of the 24th Congress of the European Psychiatric Association for professional journals of countries of the WPA Zone 10. As a result of previous sessions, members of the WPA-Servier Academy have already prepared 37 such peer-reviews, 59 have already been printed in 12 different scientific editions of six countries of the WPA Eastern European region, and six new have already been accepted for print.

As usual, after working in the Congress, the EEE WPA-Servier Academy members attended the training courses on communication skills organized specially for them. Courses aroused great interest among the participants and were very animated. East-European Educational WPA-Servier Academy project is a part of the WPA Educational Program.

WPA Zone 5 Regional Meeting

The national psychiatry societies of Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, Paraguay and Uruguay participated in the II WPA Zone 5 Regional Meeting within the 2016 APSA Congress, on April 27th and 28th. The meeting produced the WPA Zone 5 Statement on six areas of interest, as follows:

1) Mental Healthcare Policies: the importance of a legal framework was emphasized as well as the participation of national societies in the legislation process.

2) Professional Education and Training in Psychiatry and Mental Health: Assessing deficiencies in the system, all societies proposed to develop education and training programs.

3) Addictions: Consumption and dependence on substances and behavioral addictions are increasing as well as comorbidity, new policies to treat and prevent these pathologies were recommended.

4) Violence in Society: the alarming rate of violence in the region changes the patients profile and calls for immediate action.

5) Stigma and Discrimination: this is a burden not only for patients but also for health-care teams, and it should be addressed by mental health authorities.

6) Conditions of Psychiatry practice: the national societies are committed to retrieve the value of comprehensive and equitable assistance.

The following day, a panel of experts exposed these issues and answered questions from the audience. This event contributed to the

On April 8, 2016 the Portuguese Society of Psychiatry and Mental Health (SPPSM) hosted a group of 40 psychiatrists from the Israeli Psychiatric Association for a Zonal Symposium on the mental health systems in the two countries of Zone 8. The joint meeting started with a visit in the Psychiatry and Mental Health Department at Beatriz Angelo Hospital (HBA) in Lisbon followed by the symposium. Dr. Maria Joao Heitor, President-Elect of SPPSM made a comprehensive presentation of the mental health system in Portugal.

The Israeli recent reform was presented by the Zonal Representative, Prof. Zvi Zemishlany. In this reform, the responsibility of psychiatric care was transferred from the State to the four national health maintenance organizations (HMOs), who are now reorganizing the community facilities and the collaboration between primary care and psychiatrists. The conclusion of the Symposium was that the establishment of community mental health facilities and the need to improve the coordination and integration of mental health and primary care are common to both countries. A visit to the Champalimaud Foundation, dedicated to translational biomedical research, including neuroscience, concluded the interesting meeting.

■ INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF ETHNOPSYCHOLOGISTS AND ETHNOPSYCHOTHERAPISTS

May 2016 was rich in scientific events held by Mental Health Research Institute (Director, President of the IAEE – Nikolay Bokhan, Tomsk, Russia). On May 12-13 the Russian Conference and Workshop for Junior Scientists “Biomarkers in Psychiatry: Identification and Future Directions” took place. The conference was devoted to basic problems in the field of pathophysiology, psychoneuroimmunology, neurophysiology, molecular biology and genetics of mental disorders and addictions, to identification of biological markers which may be used for diagnostics, prediction of the course of mental disorders and may be molecular targets for therapeutic influence. The second day of the conference was devoted to Workshop of Junior Scientists. Materials of the conference were published in the “Siberian Journal of Psychiatry and Addiction Psychiatry” and in the Book of Abstracts.

In Tomsk on May 16 and 17 the Courses “Modern Problems of the Neurobiology and Psychopharmacology of Bipolar Disorder” took place which proceeded on May 19 and 20 in Novosibirsk. The International Educational Courses being held for four years under the auspices of the International College of Neu-

■ EUROPEAN FEDERATION OF PSYCHIATRIC TRAINEES

24th EFPT Forum Antwerp: The annual Forum of the EFPT traditionally takes place in the home country of the EFPT president. This year, for the first time since 1998, the EFPT Forum will return to Belgium, the administrative home of EFPT at the very heart of Europe. Between 2-6 July 2016, the Local Organizing Committee of Flemish Psychiatric Trainees will be proud to host over 100 trainees in psychiatry from 35 countries in Europe while they discover and enjoy all the delights of the city of Antwerp, as the next stop in the incredible and never-ending EFPT journey. Featuring both Europe's second largest port, as well as one of the most beautiful train stations in the world, this year's Forum theme "All aboard", evokes at the same time the EFPT spirit of inclusivity and Antwerp's history as an important meeting place in the heart of Europe.

The program of this 24th annual EFPT Forum hopes to offer trainees a window on psychiatric practice in Belgium, while at the same time showing how diverse and rich psychiatric training and psychiatry in Europe are, as well as providing plenty of opportunities for networking with fellow trainees. For more information on the EFPT Forum please visit www.efpt.eu/antwerp2016.

LITHUANIAN CULTURAL PSYCHIATRY ASSOCIATION

Lithuanian psychiatrists were informed by our President of the Lithuanian Psychiatric Association that Lithuania had become a "level A country". It sounds solid in front of the eyes of the world, but the truth is: the salary of Lithuanian psychiatrist, MD, with numerous and numerous years of Clinical Practice, even holding PhD, is 500 euros/month only. Doctors, who only can speak foreign language, are looking for the opportunities to work abroad

Code of Ethics for Lithuanian psychiatrists. This appears to become a problem, as well. Professor Jan-Otto Ottosson was a supervisor and drawer of the first Code of Ethics (The Declaration of Hawaii). He told us a story why there was a need for The Hawaii Declaration to be created, as he himself as one of the members at that time of the WPA Committee of Ethics, worked for nine years to create the first edition of The Hawaii Declaration.
